Dear Ms. Walcott:

Re: Land Surveyors Board Documents on NLA's Website

The Land Surveyors Board (LSB) is grateful to the National Land Agency (NLA) for all the courtesies that have been and are being extended over these many years. Currently, the list of Practising Land Surveyors is published in the Gazette, newspaper and on the NLA's website, which makes for ease of access to all our stakeholders. This is in keeping with Section 15 of the Land Surveyors Act. The list of Student Surveyors and Survey Technicians is also required to be published. There are number of other documents pertinent to the Board's operations, particularly those in relation to the Examinations for Student Surveyors to become Commissioned Land Surveyors, which we think would be helpful to our stakeholders, if they are made available via a website.

I am hereby seeking your permission for the creation of a "Land Surveyors Board" section on the NLA's website, where all of these documents can be uploaded for the ease and convenience of all interested parties. This arrangement would be for such time as it will take the Board to establish its own website similar to that of, for example, the General Legal Council of Jamaica.

I am looking forward to your favourable response.

Yours truly,

Glendon G. Newsome, PhD
Chairman
